50,000 YOUTHS ARE CALLED TO ITALIAN ARMY

Mussolini Will Have Million Under Arms By October 1

Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Rome, Sept. 5.—(P)—On the heels of a report from Geneva that Italian delegates had withdrawn from the League of Nations Council meeting, the war ministry called to the colors tonight approximately 50,000 youths of the class of 1912 who previously had been exempted from military service.

The men were previously exempted because they were the sole support of their respective families or for other reasons. This number will complete the rolls of 200,000 young men, enjoying similar exemption conditions, who previously had been advised to report for duty from the classes of 1911, 1913 and 1914.

In a speech recently at Palazzo Premier Benito Mussolini promised enlistments totaling 200,000 men. He said that the government had ordered September 10 to bring the nation's total armed strength to 1,000,000 men before October 1.

A government spokesman said tonight withdrawal of Italian delegates from a session of the League of Nations Council did not signify anything extraordinary.

He pointed out "Italy had already announced she would not become involved in an argument with Ethiopia before council members."

It does not forecast Rome's withdrawal from the league or the breaking off immediately of diplomatic relations with Ethiopia, the spokesman explained, but merely emphasized on equal terms before the council or before other circumstances.

Italy will wait for the League of Nations to take action before she moves, the spokesman said today.

Peoria Youth Is Exonerated

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 5.—(P)—Francis Hittie, 21-year-old laborer, 2022 South Washington street, was exonerated by a coroner's jury this afternoon for the fatal shooting of Daniel (Stokes) Tracy, 25, 114 Cass street, Wednesday afternoon in the yard at the Hittie home.

Hittie was acting in self defense and in the defense of his mother, Mrs. Ella Hittie, who had been knocked down by Tracy when he shot the man, the jury found.

Tracy died from a bullet wound to the heart and lungs at his home at 8 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, approximately a half hour after the argument began. Hittie used a .22 caliber rifle.

After the jury's verdict, all witnesses in the case who had been held by the police were released.

New York Chorus Girls Strike For NRA Conditions

New York, Sept. 5.—(P)—Not a hip was being shaken in eight New York burlesque houses tonight as dancers and chorus girls went on strike against what they termed "rookie law."

The call for the walkout was made by the burlesque artists association, and according to reports received by the association the strike had spread to burlesque theatres in Washington, Philadelphia, Boston and Atlantic City.

One theater announced it had met the association's demands and performances went on as usual.

The demands of the association for restoration of NRA conditions, including a day off every two weeks. Thomas J. Phillips, president of the B.A.A., declared that performers are required to work 80 hours a week, report at 11:30 a. m. daily with half an hour off for dinner, with an average salary of $21 a week.

BRITISH WAR CABINET HAS SECRET MEET

Reinforcement Of All Defenses Discussed Secretly

By Charles F. Nutter
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
London, Sept. 5.—(P)—Defense reinforcement measures decided upon secretly a fortnight ago were reviewed today by a skeleton cabinet, a group comprising most members of the imperial defense council.

This "war cabinet" met under Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin immediately after he returned from a vacation in France to assume personal command of the government.

If new warship or troop movements are underway they remained secret. The last movement of significance was disclosed yesterday, when the admiralty announced an aircraft carrier and several minor units are en route to the Mediterranean but it refused to disclose the names of the ships.

Baldwin found from his ministers that Britain is much better prepared to enforce its will in the Mediterranean than she was in mid-August, when when the admiralty reportedly said it was not ready for action.

Now, however, the bulk of the Mediterranean fleet is anchored with steam up close to the mouth of the Suez Canal, protective measures are being rushed on the island of Malta, the home fleet is standing by Portugal awaiting orders and earthen reinforcements are streaming to Malta to man new guns to be installed there.

These developments were put through Premier Mussolini announced maneuvers shortly which will bring the Italian fleet off south Sicily. This area, strategists believe, is the Achilles heel of Britain's empire link thru the Mediterranean.

Despite the quiet building up of the Mediterranean fleet, Britain appears hopelessly outnumbered by the Italian fleet in the Mediterranean as well as serviceable aircraft in that vicinity, informed sources asserted.

Meeting with Baldwin were Ramsay MacDonald, Lord President of the Council, Sir Walter Runciman, president of the board of trade; Viscount Halifax, secretary of war; W. G. Ormsby-Gore, first commissioner of works, and Malcolm MacDonald, colonial secretary.

Johnny Kling Is Wearing Smile

Kansas City, Sept. 5.—(P)—Johnny Kling, the black-haired fellow, who glared at the Chicago Cubs back in the days of that famous double play combination, Tinker to Evers to Chance, is wearing his best baseball grin again.

The Kansas City American Association club which he took over last year when it was wallowing in last place is kicking up the dust in first division and the rabid fans are trooping back to Muehlebach field.

Already more than 110,000 have poured through the turnstiles to see the Blues in contrast with 71,000 for all of last season and six home games remain to be played.

"If we draw 125,000 we'll break even," said the man who once swung his bat at the offerings of Christy Mathewson and Ed Walsh.

"That's more than this club has done in five years. But we've got a long way to go to get back to the old crowds of 400,000."

IVORY PIKE DIES

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(P)—Ivory H. Pike, jurist, legislator and one of the surviving Illinois pioneers who knew Abraham Lincoln, died today at his home in suburban Oak Park. He was 91.

In his fourscore and 11 years Pike was a Civil War soldier, a prisoner at Andersonville, a Republican member of the legislature and a justice of the Illinois Supreme court. He was a familiar figure in Springfield and Bloomington, his "home town."

Until a few weeks before his death, Pike retained a lusty vigor.

LINK MEMBERS OF TATTOO GANG WITH SLAYING

One Suspect Suicides Another Identified By Woman

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(P)—Two members of the "Tattoo gang"—one of them a suicide—were linked by authorities with the baffling murder of a city official today.

Assistant State's Attorney John Boyle announced that Mrs. Anna Blazek had identified the self-slain George Bukowy and Michael Kowalski as the two men she had seen running from the car in which Kenneth A. Morrison, assistant controller of the Chicago park district, was found dead last Aug. 14.

The woman pointed out Bukowy as he lay on a slab in the Cook county morgue. Then she selected Kowalski as he paraded with 25 other prisoners, including three other members of the mob, at a special showup.

Boyle said the identifications were positive.

The Morrison slaying, termed the "cigarette murder mystery," was one of the most puzzling in recent annals. Three bullets from an ancient .32 caliber revolver snuffed out Morrison's life. His body was propped up in the rear seat of an automobile. His straw hat was cocked at a rakish angle. He had been robbed of a watch and $62 in cash. A carefully placed cigarette stub projected from his lifeless lips.

Bukowy hanged himself in a jail cell Tuesday.

SELASSIE IS RUSHING MEN TO FRONTIER

Emperor Attempts To Restrain Attacks On Mussolini

By James A. Mills
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Addis Ababa, Sept. 5.—(P)—More troops were rushed to the frontier today as Emperor Haile Selassie issued new decrees to restrain verbal and published attacks upon Premier Mussolini and Italy.

The Emperor ordered Kidane Marlam Tskale, who is editor of the Amharic language publication, "Voice of Ethiopia," arrested for using vulgar language against Italy.

A restrained attitude toward Rome was demanded by Haile Selassie. He ordered all publications to refer to Il Duce politely as "Mr. Mussolini" and never to attack him or Italy.

Although the end of the rainy season—long heralded as the probable time for hostilities to begin it war cannot be averted—is anticipated this month, the Associated Press correspondent at Jijjiga, Northern Ethiopia, reported heavy rains are continuing. Roads are waterlogged wherever the Italians would have to advance.

Fearing a sudden Italian attack, women and children of the Jijjiga district are evacuating hastily.

Haile Selassie abandoned state business for four minutes today to make an American talkie picture on what he is trying to do to uplift Ethiopia.

HOLD FUNERAL FOR JAMES K. P. HOUSTON

Funeral services for James K. P. Houston were held Thursday morning at 11 o'clock at the Mt. Sterling Methodist church, in charge of Rev. C. W. Hamand.

Musical services were furnished by Mrs. Hattie Davis, accompanied by Mrs. Carl Daab as accompanist. The flowers were cared for by Mrs. Willa Orr and Mrs. W. A. Jackson.

The pall bearers were R. E. and F. L. Patterson, A. M. Eskew, Albert Houston, and Lloyd Mehl.

Burial was in Mt. Sterling cemetery.

SONS OF LEGION TO MEET TONIGHT

The regular meeting of the Sons of The American Legion will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock. At the close of the meeting, the American Legion Auxiliary will serve refreshments to the boys. This will be in honor of the Drum and Bugle Corps and their recent victory in winning third place at the Springfield State Fair and second place at the Quincy state convention of the American Legion.

BULLETIN.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 5.—(P)—The Red Cross announced last tonight in "official figures" that 144 bodies of veterans had been recovered from Monday's hurricane dead, and that 320 of the ex-soldiers were still missing.

Beside the 144 bodies already definitely recovered, the Red Cross had reported that 22 more were en route to Miami from upper Matecumbe.

Of the total of 871 veterans registered at the camps 375 were definitely known to be alive. Seventy-one were found injured.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 5.—(P)—The casualty list in the Florida Keys from the tropical hurricane was placed tonight at 256 dead and 252 injured in an "official count" by the Red Cross as a controversy developed over failure to evacuate the hundreds of world war veterans among whom were most of the victims.

The casualty report was made to President Roosevelt at Hyde Park, N. Y., by Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the American Red Cross.

It came while weary relief workers carried on their difficult and gruesome search for the dead, with the possibility cremation in funeral pyres might be resorted to in disposal of the bodies, many of them of war veterans engaged in a roadbuilding project in the Keys.

Meanwhile, Governor Dave Sholtz, en route to the Keys storm area, said "great carelessness somewhere" was responsible for the tragedy.

And Harry L. Hopkins, federal relief administrator in Washington, asserted in reply to demands for an investigation of failure to evacuate the war veterans ahead of the devastating hurricane.

"I think it was a terrible and a shocking disaster. But I don't think from reading those weather reports—which I've been reading—that anybody would necessarily have evacuated those people."

Prior to this Charles C. Clark, acting chief of the weather bureau at Washington, said that "from our advisories and forecasts, apparently ample notice was given of the danger and approach of this hurricane."

Before Admiral Grayson's report on the casualties, an estimate that the death toll might reach 1,000 was made to Governor Sholtz by W. P. Mooney of Miami, his personal representative in the storm area. This was characterized as "an absurdity" by L. K. Thompson, Red Cross disaster relief chairman in the section, who estimated the dead at between 270 and 300.

M. E. Gilford, director of the Florida emergency relief administration at Key West, gave as his opinion that 400 veterans were killed in the storm.

"Loss of civilians throughout the country and property damage is great," Gilford said in a radio dispatch to the mainland.

In a telephonic conversation, Admiral Grayson told the president: "The Red Cross has set up a veterans' relief unit in Miami called the war service unit, composed of competent men in veteran affairs. This is to help veterans and their families."

"Gov. Sholtz has issued a proclamation designating the American Red Cross as the official relief agency."

"Of 144 count of the Red Cross at 4 p. m., this afternoon is 256 known dead, of whom 200 were world war veterans—252 injured, of whom 252 per cent were seriously injured."

"The Red Cross reached hundreds of small islands along the Florida coast today where fishermen and their families were isolated, delivering to them ample supplies of foodstuffs and clothing material."

St. Louis To Have More Policemen

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—(P)—The board of police commissioners is determined to make the streets safe for pedestrians.

Maj. Albert Lambert of the commissioners today announced a safety campaign that contemplates the hiring of 90 additional motorcycle policemen, the lowering of the maximum speed limit for automobiles at night from 30 miles to 25 miles an hour and the erection of more raised safety zones.

Authorization for the additional patrolmen would be asked of the next legislature, he said.

10 KILLED WHEN FRENCH BOMBING PLANES COLLIDE

Tangled Wreckage Of Ships Crashes In Single Mass

Rethel, France, Sept. 5.—(P)—Ten men were killed tonight when two large bombing planes, engaged in maneuvers with the French military forces in this area, collided high in a murky sky.

The tangled wreckage fell in a single mass, setting fire to a wooden building and burning the bodies of five of the fliers. The five members of the other bombing crew were crushed to death beneath the heap of twisted metal.

General Victor Leon Ernest Denain, air minister, hurried to the scene from Reims. Members of his staff followed. A squad of infantrymen was posted around the wreckage. The bodies will not be removed until morning.

Officials said bad weather was to blame for the crash, pointing out that visibility was almost zero.

Amphibians were rushed to the scene of the collision from a nearby maneuvers camp, but none of the bombing crews was found alive.

The next program, Thursday evening, September 12, will be in charge of the Knights of Columbus. Rev. Father Lavelle will be the speaker of the evening.

Baron Aloisi Quits League Council Meet As Ethiopian Answers Italy's Indictment

231 PASSENGERS ARE TAKEN FROM STEAMER DIXIE

Captain And Skeleton Crew Remain Aboard Disabled Liner

By Joseph E. Sharkey
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
Geneva, Sept. 5.—(P)—Baron Pompeo Aloisi of Italy made good his threat to abstain from any international discussion to which Ethiopia is a party by walking out of the league of nations council session tonight.

He left when Prof. Gaston Jeze, representing Ethiopia began a reply to the indictment of Ethiopia voiced by Aloisi yesterday. A substitute remained, but withdrew almost immediately.

There followed in quick succession an Italian characterization of the Jeze remarks as "defamatory and insulting," a request that the session be suspended until Aloisi could talk by telephone to Premier Benito Mussolini and action by President Ruiz Guzman of Argentina adjourning the session.

Meanwhile the labor unions' steering committee of the International Federation of Trade Unions, conferring in the thick of the tense Geneva atmosphere, drew up a resolution pledging the support of organized labor to the league of nations in anything the league may do to throttle a war in Africa—even if it means sanctions and "sanctions are answered with war."

The resolution is expected to be passed by the federation's executive committee tomorrow, when an international boycott of Italian goods, labor leaders said, may be discussed.

But adjournment did not come before Maxim Livinoff of Russia had told the council that the league is confronted by the direct menace of military operations. Italy does not deny this, he said. Italy confirms it.

Livinoff urged the league to act. He criticized the methods employed by Italy. He insisted military operations should be restricted to defense of one's country when attacked. "This," he said, "is the essence of the meaning of the Kellogg pact. I urge the members of the council to do everything possible to avert war."

When President Ruiz declared the council session adjourned, he announced he would have a method of procedure to propose at the next meeting. This was understood to allude to a plan to set up a sub-committee.

Aloisi's action in bolting the session created a sensation. The Italian delegation, immediately after it, gathered in the lobbies to consider their next step; then they sent in a request for suspension.

Italian officials said they did not understand the walkout to mean "necessarily" that Italy is leaving the league.

The Jeze speech was an answer to Italy's accusations of barbarism and came after the Ethiopian delegation had spent a day in study of the voluminous "atrocity" material presented by Aloisi.

Italy, Jeze said, seems to regard Ethiopia as a "mad dog." She announced proudly, he said, that she had a million soldiers under arms, perhaps to be thrown into Africa to gain an outlet for Italy's surplus population.

"But Ethiopia," he went on, "has no aggressive designs. Ethiopia does not want to develop militarism in its country. That is not the kind of civilization Ethiopia believes in."

Jeze declared his country seems to be menaced with aggression and to be in mortal danger. "We ask," he said, "for treatment of this dispute under Article 15 of the league covenant."

It was at this point that Aloisi's substitute left the hall. Aloisi himself having gone the moment Jeze was recognized.

Italy's seat, beside that of the French Premier Laval, remained vacant as Jeze continued, demanding quick action under Article 16.

Under that article the nations had pledged themselves to respect the integrity and political independence of other members of the league.

As for the Italian accusations, Jeze said they were "wholly unjust."

British observers said some difficulties have arisen in connection with projected appointment of a sub-committee to sift the contrary claims of the disputants, which drew objection from Aloisi.

Tax Revenues

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5.—(P)—The state received $5,124,803.55 in motor fuel tax revenue for August, K. L. Ames Jr., state finance director, said today.

The collection was higher than for any other month since the enactment of the motor fuel tax law in 1929, Ames said. Receipts for August, 1934, were $2,690,190.20.

Will Light Streets

Tuscola, Ill., Sept. 5.—(P)—Tuscola's streets, dark for 18 months while the city and a utility company disputed a light bill, will be lighted again. It was agreed today to burn 150 street lights out of the city's 206. Citizens have been using flashlights to find their way home.

Consider Challenge

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(P)—Seventy-five youths attending a conference of the Methodist youth council of the Methodist Episcopal church tonight considered the challenge of Roger P. Little, Urbana, Ill., layman, to avoid sensationalism and accept the task of making the church "mind its own business."

Representing the recently organized Methodist laymen's conference of the middle west, Little, an attorney, rebuked a "minority group" for making expressions on political and economic matters.

Work For Everybody

If all the projects being prepared and already submitted are allowed in Jacksonville and Morgan county, there should be plenty of work for everybody during the coming winter. All employable persons on the relief rolls will be transferred to WPA and set to work on the numerous undertakings being planned. The work is of wide variety, ranging from construction of buildings at state institutions to grading and graveling roads in the rural sections of the county.

Those in the county whose duty it is to originate and sponsor projects have been busy. It will not be the fault of citizens interested in getting the people employed if work for all is lacking. But there is plenty of assurance that no reasonable project will be rejected, as the government is determined to put the people to work.

There is a steady pickup in business now under way, or at least reports from all parts of the country would so indicate. By the time projects financed with government money are completed, it is hoped the slack in employment will have been taken up by private industry and business. Then the depression will be definitely ended.

Cashing in on Assets

On Sept. 1 the Evening Independent of St. Petersburg, Fla., issued a huge special edition honoring an offer made by the editor, Major Lew Brown, 25 years ago. Had the sun failed to shine at any time that day before the paper went to press, the entire issue would have been given away to its readers. That would have been according to the offer made by Major Brown.

Back in 1910 this man was seeking some means of advertising his paper and his city. He noted the prevalence of sunshine and made a study of weather data for the region. Then, without consulting anybody, he came out with his astounding offer. At once public interest was aroused. Within the first six weeks Major Brown had to give away two complete issues of the paper. Some people sympathized, others criticized, still others predicted he would go broke. But the offer still stands, and the Independent carries on.

In the entire quarter-century only 118 issues of the paper have been given free. During three complete years there was sunshine every day.

and St. Petersburg people did not get any free papers. Meanwhile the Sunshine City and the standing bet on the weather made by the Independent have become known the nation over.

It was thus that one man capitalized a community asset. It happened to be sunshine, but it might have been one of a thousand other things. Whether or not a community or its citizens cash in on its assets depends on the ability of an individual or group to see and take advantage of the opportunities at hand.

To be sure advertising the Sunshine City has cost money, but no good thing is free to those who boost. In this case only the failure of sunshine brings a gift. Every city should make the most of its good things whatever they may be, Jacksonville included.

We Do Better at Home

"I was amazed to see the extent to which those countries regard our money as being inflated. The prices you have to pay abroad in American money are staggering."

"For this reason Americans are getting a little more sensible and are buying little for themselves. They are buying the fewest number of presents to bring back that they can get by with. This is best understood when I say that to telephone from Europe to the United States costs nearly twice as much as to telephone from here to Europe."

The above paragraphs were spoken by a Chicago man recently returned from Europe. His words would indicate that Americans had best do their buying at home, where their dollars are not so much distracted. The remarks are also significant in revealing what damage inflation or rumors of inflation may do the pocket-book of the honest citizen.

Europe has the fixed idea our currency is inflated, plus an impression that Americans are easily gouged. The combination is driving away tourist trade and teaching us to see our own friends first. Traveling about the United States, one finds prices on the up and up and realizes that inflation, plus government regulation, is getting in its work here also. But even so, it pays best to do all one's buying at home.

Money spent in Europe does not find its way into the pay envelope of the American workman. It serves only to swell the fund this country has already contributed to the support of European politics, for a goodly portion of the income of the man who takes the American dollar in Europe goes for taxes to support vast armaments.

Advance in Air Amazing

An interesting glimpse at the amazing progress of aviation in the last quarter century came during the recent National Air Races in Cleveland, when it was recalled that exactly 2 years had elapsed since Glenn Curtiss made a "sensational" flight of 64 miles over Lake Erie to win a prize of $5000.

Curtiss flew from Cedar Point, O., to a landing field on the lake shore just east of Cleveland. Some 300,000 people lined the lake front to watch. He covered the 64 miles in 78 minutes, thereby setting a new world's record for overwater flights. The next day he turned around and flew back.

On the 25th anniversary of that flight, Ben Howard flew from Los Angeles to Cleveland in eight hours and 23 minutes, covering a distance of slightly more than 2000 miles for a prize of $4500.

By contrasting those flights, and by recalling that Curtiss' flight in 1910 made much more of a stir than Howard's flight in 1935, you can gauge the unparalleled development aviation has made in 25 years.

A Little Horror Helps

Magistrate Thomas A. Aurelio of the New York traffic court seems to have started something when he forced traffic law violators to listen to a reading of J. C. Furnas' little article "—and Sudden Death," which contains a harrowing, realistic description of the way human beings are mangled and tortured in an automobile wreck.

Highway officials, police departments, and traffic courts all over the country have sent for copies of the article and are preparing to follow Magistrate Aurelio's lead.

The idea is extremely sensible. Most traffic accidents grow out of infractions of the traffic code, and these in turn usually grow out of simple carelessness. If there is any way to impress on the minds of motorists the frightful consequences such carelessness may have—and this stunt might do it—the traffic toll should drop sharply.

Dig Up Cedar Ties
Of First Railroad

Relics of Pioneer Line Unearthed by Dredge Working at Naples

Four cedar railroad ties were unearthed in Naples recently when the small northwest dredge, digging a muck ditch for the Mauvalsterre Drainage District levee, crossed the roadbed of the first railroad track built out of Naples in 1839.

The red cedar ties were no doubt placed in the ground more than ninety years ago. One, however, was in fairly good condition and measured nine feet four inches in length. Several feet from each end of the tie was a large hole through which wooden spikes were driven to hold the wood rails to the ties.

It is supposed that the ties were laid by the Collins Bros., who attempted the first railroading in Illinois. The track was in the center of the street leading from the east to the old depot warehouse at the river's edge.

Callers in this city yesterday included Dorothy Roegge from Beardstown.

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filtes which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

It's Hard to Tell Whether Squawks About Cotton Loans Came From Heart or Purse . . . Small Clings to Report of Wickersham Probers . . . Dense Fog Hangs Over U. S.-Soviet Situation.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal and Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—No one will ever know how much of the agonized shriek here following the first cotton loan announcement was due to concern for the cotton growers and how much of it was inspired by the grief of speculators.

But Roosevelt and the AAA chiefs had their suspicions, and rumors have reached epidemic proportions. There's no law requiring politicians to reveal the extent to which they're in the cotton market or in any other market. And it's considered poor form to ask.

Not are the close associations between some senators and cotton manufacturers and brokers a matter of public record though it would be a damned interesting record if they were—especially now.

But it's known that a lot of folks had to dig up margin money in a hurry when the market broke 83 points the morning after it was learned the loan rate was to be 9 cents instead of 12.

Whether or not any senators were in that position, some friends of senators certainly were long on cotton having believed senatorial assurances that the loan rate would stay at 12. Many cotton mill men had been lobbying for the 12-cent loan—which meant a pegged price—and either had unhedged stocks and inventories or were long on futures.

Southern senators and lobbyists yelled murder about the "blow to the farmer" and dire political consequences and held up Congress until the White House granted a "compromise." But the AAA, knowing that very few farmers held any cotton at this time and having promised to subsidize growers up to a guaranteed return of 12 cents a pound, couldn't see how the farmer would be hurt.

The "compromise" providing a 10-cent loan and a more equitable subsidy method as between growers, is still expected to achieve the AAA objective of a free cotton market and the unloading of some 1,500,000 more bales of surplus cotton on the world market than could have been done under the 12-cent loan policy.

The Smell Lingers

A new official at the Department of Justice, poking around the other day, came across the secret records of the once very famous, but now almost forgotten Wickersham commission. They are kept carefully guarded in boxes inside a locked vault, though no one seemed sure just why.

The documents gave off a strange odor. It seemed they had been stored quite a while with supplies of confiscated opium!

Strangely enough, it left the speculators still holding the bag.

Still in a Fog

Most of the explanations you've read of the Soviet note incident are true. Roosevelt decided to protest after cable reports seemed to give Mr. Hearst and the Republicans a chance to assert that E. D. had been endorsed by a prominent delegate at the Communist International. (The real gist of Dimitroff's remarks at Moscow was that Roosevelt's conservative enemies were more likely to create an American Fascism than was Roosevelt.)

International affairs experts here are doing a lot of hair-splitting as they discuss the facts of the quarrel, but once again, to insiders at least, there stands out the fact that Livinov and Roosevelt have broken all records for misunderstanding subsequent to a secret diplomatic conference.

Neither government has ever publicly admitted these disagreements as to what was actually promised in the sub rosa negotiations leading up to Russian recognition, but they exist:

1. Russia says we promised a loan and we say we didn't.
2. We say Russia promised to settle her debts and she says she merely promised to discuss them.
3. We say Livinov promised to curb Third International activities in the United States and the Russians say he didn't.

Our diplomats tell you behind the door that a favorite Russian expression is "yes-yes," used in a way that doesn't mean anything. On the other hand, there's frequent complaint that one of Mr. Roosevelt's favorite expressions is "yes-yes" which similarly means merely that he is paying attention.

THE SCREEN REPORTER

WHAT'S PLAYING TODAY

FOX ILLINOIS—Sybil Jason in "LITTLE BIG SHOT" with Glenda Farrell, Robt. Armstrong and Edward Everett Horton plus a Theima Todd and Patsy Kelly Comedy "TIN MAN," and Betty Boop Cartoon.

FOX MAJESTIC—Robt. Russell in "FIGHTING THRU," also Episode 7 of "RUSTLERS OF RED DOG" and Cartoon.

HEART STEALER

Here she is, the little lady they are all talking about, 5 year old Sybil Jason. The little star of "LITTLE BIG SHOT" which plays at the Fox Illinois theatre today and tomorrow. In the cast are Glenda Farrell, Robt. Armstrong and Edward Everett Horton. Your screen reporter guarantees you a jolly time. Two tickets for you today at the Fox Illinois, Merle Smedley, 621 E. State.

CIMARRON

"CIMARRON," which returns to the Fox Majestic Sunday and Monday, stands as the screen's first notable amalgamation of spectacle and story, in which the mighty characterizations of the author have not been sacrificed in attaining immensity of background.

Richard Dix plays Yancy Cravat, vivid, brilliant, striking central character of the Edna Ferber novel. Irene Dunne as Sabra, his wife. Others in the supporting cast are Estelle Taylor, William Collier, Jr., and Edna May Oliver. There are 2 tickets at the Fox Majestic for you today. E. J. Henderson 1016 South Clay.

AN EVENT

Putting thrills into pictures usually is one of the hardest jobs film folks have to face. They've all been done a thousand times. But for "CHINA SEAS" starring Clark Gable, Jean Harlow, and Wallace Berry, which comes to the FOX ILLINOIS Sunday for three days, it was no trouble at all to evolve a brand new series of thrills. The entire action of the story takes place aboard the Wheezy Liner KIN LUNG as she beats down the coast from Hong Kong to Singapore.

Hugh Green Talks Relief Costs Here

Legislator Speaks at Local Kiwanis Meeting on Big Bill for Illinois

The tremendous costs of relief in Illinois were discussed by Hugh Green, representative in the Illinois General Assembly, at the Thursday meeting of the Jacksonville Kiwanis club. Mr. Green discussed at length bills that were considered at the last General Assembly and the procedure in the House of Representatives.

The speaker said the sales tax fund, liquor tax, and tax on utilities will raise $76,000,000 annually. The sales tax was designed, according to its sponsors, to relieve the property tax, but it means that while $24,000,000 taxes were taken off there were $76,000,000 added. The increase in taxes was brought about as a relief measure.

While the cost of relief in Morgan county a few years ago was $40,000 annually it is now that much monthly. In December, 1933 Scott county had five families on the relief rolls. Last December that county had more than 500 families on relief. In March, 1933 the cost for relief administration in the state was $7,800,000. In March, 1935 it was $12,400,000.

Mr. Green stated that an old age pension bill was passed and at the next session it probably will be amended to conform with the national pension law. More money was appropriated for use of schools during the past year, the speaker said, and the appropriations made at the last General Assembly totaled $54,000,000 more than at the last General Assembly during Governor Emmerson's administration.

Jersey County Man Robbed of Cash by Four Near Church

Pearl Schneider Loses $64 in Early Morning Attack of Bandit Squad

Jerseyville—Pearl Schneider of Jerseyville Rural Route Three was held up and robbed about one o'clock Wednesday morning by four men near St. Francis Xavier's church in Jerseyville. Schneider reported to police that the men took sixty-four dollars in bills from a pocket of his coat.

According to Schneider, he was walking near the church Wednesday morning about one o'clock when he was accosted by a man who stepped from the shadows in front of him. Schneider halted at the appearance of the other man, and as he stopped a second man wrapped his arms about Schneider. Two others then joined the first pair, and one of them went through Schneider's pockets. The money was found and they then searched Schneider for other valuables. "Make sure he hasn't a gun," one of them suggested. Then they turned Schneider loose with the admonition to beat it and not squawk to the police.

First in Flight

Covering the 150-mile course at an average speed of 220.104 miles an hour, Harold Neumann, above, of Moline, Ill., won the Thompson Trophy event of the National Air Races in Cleveland. Neumann won after oil-line trouble had forced Col. Roscoe Turner out of the race in the last lap, when he had a seven-mile lead.

Schneider was able to furnish Chief Shortall with a fairly accurate description of his assailants, and members of the local force are investigating several leads.

Sentenced to Jail

Ray Miller of Alton was given a thirty day jail sentence in default of payment of a one hundred dollar fine assessed in the county court of Jersey county against him Tuesday. An information was filed against Miller Tuesday morning charging him with driving a car while intoxicated. Miller was arrested near the Jersey Township High school on North State street by State Police Officer "Jerry" Vaughn.

St. Louis Cardinals Take Easy Victory From Boston Braves 15-3

Illinois Valley Gridders Dig In For Coming Football Season

Reds Smother Giants 4 To 1

Chicago, Sept. 5.—A pair of Cincinnati rookies, Alex Kampouris and Al Hollingsworth, combined their efforts to give the New York Giants a pennant quest another severe setback today. The pitching of Hollingsworth and the hitting of Kampouris gave the Reds a 4 to 1 victory.

While the Giants were being both of last season's rivals, the Cubs and the Cardinals won and as a result New York was kept in second place only by the pennant race. They dropped a half game behind the Cubs but still held the edge over Chicago, 3 1/2 to 3 1/2, because they had played fewer games. The victory sent the Reds into sixth place ahead of the Phillies, who lost to Chicago.

Hollingsworth gave a fine exhibition of pitching in the "clunker" although he was troubled for two hours. Just half of those hours were made by Manager Bill Terry, who had a perfect day at the plate and scored the only New York run.

After failing behind in the first inning, the Giants broke through to tie the score in the sixth when Terry opened with a double, took third on Hank Leiber's infield hit and scored after Phil Ots hit a long fly to right field.

The Reds won the game in the same inning when Kampouris belted a three-bagger with the bases loaded. Young Clyde Castileman, who gave only seven hits in his six innings on the hill, was touched for three of them in that frame. Babe Herman singled and advanced on Jim Bottomley's sacrifice. Lew Riggs drew an intentional pass and Billy Sullivan playing second base because of yesterday's injury to Gordon. Sullivan, who had just inside the foul line to lead the attack, Kampouris' triple that cleaned the corners was another close one, traveling just in fair territory to the right field corner of the lot.

Score: New York 000 001 000—1 0 0 Cincinnati 100 000 000—7 1 0
Strout, Castileman, Smith and Mancuso, Danining, Hollingsworth and Lombardi.

Out of town callers in this city on Thursday included John Bergehneller of New Berlin.

White Hall, Sept. 5.—With 49 boys out, White Hall high school is looking forward to one of its best teams this year. Coach Bruno Bierman, who took over the coaching duties here this year when the former coach, W. H. Knapp, was elevated to the principal's position, has six veterans on hand, among which is a team.

White Hall will open its football campaign at Beardstown, Sept. 20. The team this year promises to be heavier than usual, but the coach is beginning to worry about speed. The lack of speed may cause the White Hall coach to change from a double wing-back style he used when coaching at Pleasant Hill last year, to a short punt formation.

Thus far most of the work has been of the conditioning and fundamental variety. The coach has three weeks to get ready for the opening game, and plans to devote next week and week following to teaching plays.

33 at Winchester
Winchester, Sept. 5.—One of the largest squads in recent history has been reported for practice here for the football team, and Coach Andrew Chapman, who is beginning his second year as coach of the Wildcats, is considerably cheered by the spirit and enthusiasm shown thus far.

Without the weight that made last year's team tough, the Wildcats this year will have to go into games with a lightning fast attack. Coach Chapman is working with this in mind during his early practices, conditioning the boys with exercises which are expected to speed them up.

10 at Pittsfield
Pittsfield, Sept. 5.—Coach John Taras, beginning his second year as coach of the Sauk Indians, is working mightily with a squad of 40 boys who hope to win positions on the Pittsfield high football team this year. Two of the players have won letters and one other south almost qualified for a letter last year.

Taras again is handicapped by the weight problem. His team last year was light, and unless some husky legs can be found soon, it appears that this year's team will be about the same. The Indians, however, overcame their lack of size with scrap and speed last year.

In ancient China, political prisoners sometimes were put to death by being wrapped in fresh rhinoceros skin. The skin contracted as it dried and crushed its victim.

Grapevine Shift is Planned by Zupke

Hand Injured When Match Box Explodes in Heating; Drill to Open Sept. 10

Champaign, Ill.—Bringing with him diagrams of the "Grapevine Shift" and numerous other strategies to be taught to the Illinois football squad, Bob Zupke has returned to make ready for the opening of his twenty-third season as overlord of the Illini gridiron forces.

From Muskegon, Mich., where the veteran coach has spent the summer, comes the word that he is in fine physical trim. The palm of his left hand was severely burned by the explosion of a box of matches and is still painful but it is healing rapidly and will in no way diminish his traditional energy and drive.

Although the burn put end to his golfing for the present his right hand was still available for the devising of the strategies with which the Illini will attack their rivals of the 1939 campaign. The "Grapevine Shift" was tried out in spring practice but Zupke has made variations, the fruit of his summer cogitations.

Since 1913, when the coach came to Illinois from Oak Park High school, the Illini have won or shared seven Big Ten championships. Two points kept them out of figuring in the title in 1933 and the loss of one game last year shut them out again.

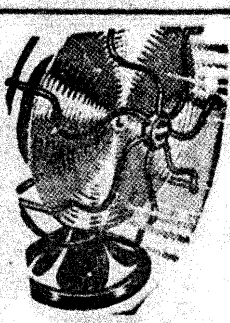

Shortly after Coach Zupke's arrival he conferred with his assistants and laid out the program for the opening of practice. This year the Big Ten has moved the first day to September 10 instead of September 15 as in the past. This will give the Illini seven full days before instruction begins September 18 but most of one day will be occupied by registration.

On Monday, September 9, the candidates will take their physical examinations and draw their equipment, to be ready for the first practice Tuesday morning. From then on there will be workouts twice daily until classes begin.

Jus Lindgren, beginning his thirty-fifth season as line coach, Weenie Wilson and John Depler will assist Zupke with the varsity. Depler, captain of the 1930 team and an assistant at Columbia University, New York for some years, returns as a seasonal coach to succeed Bob Reich who resigned to join the advertising department of a national magazine. Wilson has already been promoted to the varsity staff to succeed Milt Olander and the new coach of the first-year squad is Doug Mills, successful coach of Joliet High school and former Illinois football and basketball star.

Matt Bullock will be varsity and W. Brown freshman trainer.

The traditional varsity-freshman game will be played on Saturday, September 21, probably for the benefit of the hand trip fund.

Cubs Take Close Game From Phils

Chicago, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Frank Demaree's single with the bases loaded and one out in the eleventh inning gave the challenging Cubs a 3 to 2 overtime victory over Philadelphia today and moved them within two percentage points of second place, although technically one-half game ahead of the Giants in won and lost column.

A walk to Galen Camilli's fumble of Herman's sacrifice and a pass to O'Dea filled the bases for the winning blow. George Watkins' 15th home run of the season in the sixth and a run scored on Chiozza's single. Cavarretta's fumble and two outs in the eighth tied the score and necessitated extra innings after the Cubs took an early two-run lead on singles by Demaree, Cavarretta and Hack in the second.

Charley Root went the route against Curt Davis for his 12th victory. Each pitcher allowed seven hits.

Davidson Forecasts Wide Open Football

Puts Army Men Playing Touch Football to Get Ready for Laterals

(This is the third of a series of stories on the prospects of major college football teams.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
West Point, N. Y.—Football is coming out into the open this season as never before, says Lieut. Gar Davidson, commander-in-chief of the Army gridiron, and said indeed will be the major league coach who hasn't his laterals and forward passes ready for the test.

The way Alabama passed and ran Stanford into rout in the Rose bowl was the preview of the kind of attack you're going to see everywhere all fall," he says.

"I've got my men playing touch football as much as possible, passing the ball around all the time, getting used to handling it and plucking it out of the air from all angles. I'm hoping they'll develop to a point where they'll handle laterals instinctively. We're going all the way on a passing attack."

Davidson, white-haired though still in his 30's, believes that Army's 3 to 0 defeat by Navy last fall, first time the midshipmen upset the Cadets since 1921, did more good than harm.

"The Cadets got so used to beating Navy," he said, "that they lost their mental edge. I knew it before the game last fall. There was nothing I could do to lift them out of it. Now is different. They're back on their feet again. They'll be all the tougher this year for that jolting."

Davidson is concentrating on a forward-passing combination that looks spectacular. Joe Nazarro of Brooklyn, who didn't fit into last year's combination headed by Jack Buckler and Joe Stankook, is the finest passer Army has boasted in years. On the edge are two brilliant receivers, Capt. Bill Shuler and Maurice Preston. There's no bluff in Army's aerial threat.

A bigger, faster line than last year's combination, a plentitude of backs with none of Buckler's outstanding ability, gives Davidson a chance to mould a more versatile eleven. He's going in heavily for single wing-back formations, and a running attack that moves as frequently to the right as to the left.

The schedule includes only nine games instead of the customary ten: Oct. 6, William and Mary; 13, Gettysburg; 19, Harvard; 26, Yale at New Haven; Nov. 2, Mississippi State; 9, Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh; 16, Notre Dame at New York; 23, Vermont; 30, Navy at Philadelphia. (Tomorrow: Rice)

Young Terry Moore Gets Five Singles and A Double to Tie Old Time Batting Mark

St. Louis, Sept. 5.—(AP)—Young Terry Moore, the recruit who made good, equaled a modern major league batting record today as the World Champion Cardinals lambasted the demoralized Boston Braves 15 to 3, to retain top standing in the National League.

The triumph, second in a row over the lowly Braves, enabled the league leaders to keep their two and a half game margin over the Chicago Cubs who turned back Philadelphia. The Giants' loss to Cincinnati left them three games out of first place, but still ahead of Chicago on percentages.

Moore, St. Louis' clouting outfielder, knocked five singles and a double in the Cardinals' 19-hit assault to tie the modern major league record for consecutive safeties in a 9-inning game.

The old record was held by the late Wilbert Robinson who hit safely on each of seven trips to the plate in a game he played in 1892 on the old Baltimore Orioles. The modern record has been equaled many times.

The Cardinals opened with a shower of base hits that sent Fred Frankhouse, clever right-hander, from the mound at the end of the second inning. His replacement, "Huck" Betts, fared no better, the world champions garnering 11 more safeties from him in the last six innings.

The Redbirds, aided by five Boston errors, concentrated ten of their tallies in two innings with five-run bat-fests in the third and sixth. Fidgety Phil Collins, who returned to the Cardinal lineup as a starting hurler after competing most of the season in a relief role, limited the Braves to eight hits, three of which came in Boston's belated and futile 2-run rally in the ninth.

Will Try to Send Ball Over Course in 20 Minutes

GOLF SPEEDSTERS TO SEEK NEW TYPE MARK

Chicago.—(AP)—A team of twenty-four players will attempt to speed a golf ball around an 18-hole course in twenty minutes or less next Sunday.

Under the method of play to be used, one man will drive off from each tee while two men stand ready around the 200-yard marker on each side of the fairway. The man nearest the drive plays it to the screen where a chip shot man and a putter await the ball. As soon as it is holed out, the ball is thrown (to save time) to the next tee where the same system is used.

The difficulty is expected to arise at the end of the fifth hole. Use of five men on each "hole crew" will exhaust the supply of man power by the time the sixth hole is reached. It will be necessary, therefore, to transport the crew from the first hole to the sixth in less than four minutes, the time allotted for the ball to travel over the first five holes.

No one knows the originator of the scheme, but if a few men fall down they may be looking for him Sunday night.

Submit Projects to WPA for 300 Miles Of Improved Roads

County Plans Farm-to-Market Highways in Each District; Also State Aid Roads

Nearly 300 miles of improved roads will be added to the system in Morgan county if projects prepared by the county highway department and submitted to the WPA are approved. Highway Superintendent William J. Casler said Thursday that these projects have been prepared and sent in to the proper authorities, and that the county has taken full advantage of every opportunity to provide highway construction for the unemployed under the new government program.

The projects include twenty miles of farm-to-market roads for each of the thirteen rural road districts in the county. These improved roads would connect with paved routes or with roads already improved or lead directly into cities and towns in the county. Grading and bridges would be provided and also graveling.

Some twenty miles of state aid roads in the county are also included as projects for improvement. These routes include the strip from Liberty to Prentice, a mile of road extending north of the county farm, and two miles extending west from Chapin. It is understood that the state is also planning to improve the route from Arcadia to Brown's Crossing. Should this be done, an all-weather road would extend across the entire north end of the county from east to west.

Small Boy Injured By Explosion When Rock Hits Torpedo

Jack Kilver Burned in Eyes and Face; Find Explosive on Railroad Track

Jack Kilver, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kilver of the Pisgah community, was painfully injured about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening when a torpedo he found on the railroad track exploded as he hit it with a rock. The boy's face was covered with powder burns and blood flowed from several places where the skin was broken. His eyes were also burned, especially on the lids.

He was brought to Passavant hospital, where he received medical attention, and was returned to the city by his parents Thursday for further examination and treatment. Fear that his eyes might be seriously affected was allayed by physicians, but further examination was necessary.

The boy and his sister, Gussie Marie, 10, were walking along the railroad track near their home. Their father was some distance ahead. The children found the torpedo, and Jack knew what it was.

"It will go bang," he told his sister. He put the explosive on the ground and threw a rock at it. Although he was several feet away, the explosion inflicted painful injuries. His sister was farther from the torpedo and was not injured. The screams of the children brought their father back to aid the injured lad.

Rescind Action Of July; Ask Funds For Municipal Light Plant

as a tax. The plant is to be paid for out of revenues, and pointed out that the former request called for a grant of only 50 percent, whereas the government has allowed a grant of 45 percent of the project.

Not Obligation
That the utility certificates issued to cover the loan of $231,000 could never become a general obligation of the city, was assured by Amos Watts, of the firm of Chapman and Cutler, of Chicago, and by Clayton Barber, both of whom are well informed upon municipal law in this state. Foreman declared. In the application for the plant, as it was filed in 1933, the financial statement set out that if the city was able to obtain 50 percent of the business in the city, it would be able to amortize the debt completely in three years; and at the same time set up a depreciation fund, and show a surplus in the municipal fund that could go toward the reduction of water rates, lower taxes, or any other purpose to which the council wished to put the funds, with a top rate of five cents for a kilowatt hour, comparable to the seven cent rate now being charged. The old figures, he continued, were set up to amortize a loan of $275,000, and not the $231,000 offered in the application.

Answers Questions
The former city attorney answered questions asked by a few members of the city council, stating in answer to one of them that there is already on file in Washington an objection to the project, filed by a power company, in which it is alleged that the city will be unable to get 50 percent of the business in the length of time set forth. In answer, Foreman stated that in Springfield 85 percent of the residential business is held by the Springfield municipal plant, concluded that that business is the cream, because of the higher rate charged.

Questioned about the steps that could be taken to keep the electric light plant out of politics, the former city attorney said that the citizens or the council itself could take these steps. He pointed out, however, that the council was not deciding on that issue at this time, but that it was deciding whether to accept the project offered by the government.

J. W. Morrison, who followed the former city attorney, declared that he felt the allocation was one of the biggest things that had happened during his lifetime. He said the city was past the experimental stage in the management of its water-works, and that the same would be true of its conduct of the municipal light plant. He recalled that Senator Lewis, whose telegram brought the first news of the allocation to the city, began his campaign for a seat in the United States senate at the Morgan county fair several years ago, and intimated that Lewis may have been a big help in dividing the project through. He told the council that the citizens of Jacksonville were watching the council and that they wanted action and advised the aldermen to "grab the opportunity, and grab it quick."

Jake Claus also advised the council to "take the offer" quick. He declared "we want a new Jacksonville and the opportunity is at hand."

Harlan Williamson, who was chairman of the finance committee when the 1933 council submitted the application, declared he was almost sick when he learned that the application had been granted, in view of the action on July 1, but as soon as he found it was not too late to do something about it, said he immediately got busy. He urged the council to take immediate action, and to notify the PWA heads by night letter of any action taken.

Declaring that the water rates and electric light rates here were too high, Attorney Robert E. Harmon told the council that he opposed the bond issue of $150,000 for the purpose of rehabilitating the water-works at a recent special election, on the grounds that the bond issue would bring about higher water rates. Concluding his talk, the attorney said "if this is our opportunity, let's grab it" and finished with the statement that he would like to see the council rescind its former action.

Jake Claus said he merely attended the council session to listen in, but was impressed by what the speaker had said, and concluded by saying that he believed the council should open the door to the golden opportunity. Tom Buckthorpe, the final speaker, said his only advice would be for the members of the council to get out of town if they failed to rescind the July 1 resolution.

It was then that Alderman George Brown presented the prepared text asking the council to rescind the resolution, and to renew its application for a municipal light and power plant.

No Conflict
Discussing the possibility of an overlapping of the municipal power plant and water works extension projects, the former city attorney said that the water-works extension project could be pared in view of the fact that the equipment for providing power to operate the pumps would be taken care of in the municipal light plant. The two projects will not conflict in any other way, because both are concerned with different funds and in no way overlap.

Turning to other business, the council quickly approved for application the graving and oblong of about five miles of dirt streets to be requested of the Works Progress Administration. The projects, outlined by Alderman W. H. Cocking, call for an expenditure by the city of approximately $4000 for gravel, with the WPA furnishing labor to the amount of $42,267. It was estimated that some of the funds to pay for the dirt could be obtained from the Motor Fuel Tax fund, and that there would be an item of about $1600 for the rental of a tractor, and another item of $3,584 for the use of dump trucks, some of which would be refunded to the city.

Streets in all four wards would be modernized under the proposal, to be submitted before Saturday to the WPA board in Peoria. The streets listed in the first ward were East Lafayette from Brown to Howe, Independence from Clay to Myrtle, Doolin avenue from Independence to Oak and Hard street to the Washburn road, thence to Independence and then to the East cemetery and C, and A, tracks.

Streets in the second ward were listed as Church street from Independence to Route 104, Prairie and Webster, also from Independence to Route 104. In the third ward, Chambers from South Main to Brooklyn, and Chambers to Route 36, and E. Superior from South Main to Hard street, and Michigan from South Main to Hard street, also would be improved. Two streets, Chambers from Church to Gladstone and Gladstone from Chambers to Grove, would be included in the work.

Included in the same project is a plan for removing from the streets the disused street car tracks, and proposals to construct sewers on Johnson and Goltz.

Highways Approved
The council was advised by the state department of highways, that several arterial highways had been approved and that other projects, to be paid out of the Motor Fuel Tax fund had been approved for Sections 4-CS and 5-CS, at an estimated total cost of $3,500. The section 4-CS is on Hardin avenue from Morton to Michigan, and the section 5-CS is on Chambers street from South Clay to Brooklyn, a project which will not be undertaken this year, and on Brooklyn avenue from Chambers to State street. All of these streets were approved as arterial highways, following their designation by the council and approval by the state highway department.

One arterial highway, Doolin avenue, was withheld from this classification because the state department felt that Route 78, only one block away, was able to take care of the traffic in that part of the city. Arterial Highway Number 22, Independence avenue from Clay to Myrtle, also was approved.

The department of public health notified the council that it had inspected and approved the preliminary draft of the plan of the city to increase its water system and rehabilitation of its water-works, pending full plans. The project has been submitted to the PWA.

City Clerk John R. Phillips submitted his report for the month of August, showing collections of $1,699.87, most of it consisting of tax paid to the city by fire insurance companies. C. J. Wright reported collections of $8,063.73 for August, and the sale of water amounting to $6,688.43 for the same period.

Getting into its first battle of the evening, Alderman Brown successfully brought an amendment to the claims against the city when he pointed out that gasoline for the mayor's automobile was being charged against the garage fund, instead of the mayor's office or the contingent fund. His demand that the bill be charged against the mayor's office and paid out of contingent fund was supported by Alderman P. R. Mathews, and the council voted the amendment to the motion that all properly approved bills be paid.

Launching another attack, Alderman Brown demanded that bills for salaries, charged against the contingent fund, be held up pending a ruling on the legality of the payment. City Attorney C. R. Grunly said it was his judgment that while there was nothing criminal in the procedure, that it was irregular and could be stopped by court action. The demand was lost for the want of a second.

Continuing his protests, the Fourth ward alderman demanded that meter readings be placed on bills rendered for water purchased. C. J. Wright, superintendent of the collection department, said he would be glad to put the readings on bills when requested to do so by Alderman Brown, but that practice had been discontinued for the sake of economy. Alderman Brown was advised to tell persons who complain to him about the failure to include these figures, to lodge their complaints with the collection department.

Alderman Mathews agreed to take up with the street sweeper a plea for a First ward citizen that East Court street on the east side of Clay avenue be swept more than once a week.

Pass Resolution.
Under the public improvement heading, the city passed a resolution authorizing the mayor and city clerk to sign a lease with the Morgan Dairy Ice Cream company for the property located on the Brook, to be used as a lunch room and ice cream sales room. The lease calls for rental of $12.50 monthly.

The council also voted to recommend to the board of plumbing examiners that a license be granted to Pat Sheehan. Sheehan appeared before the council with his attorney, Robert E. Harmon.

Police were given charge of a dispute over the use of a marked bus stop at the southern entrance to the square, and were instructed to keep the place open for the use of taxis and jitneys. The head of the Reddy Cab company reported that he had experienced some difficulty in utilizing the place because of the activities of another taxi driver who had been using the corner as a stand.

Men's Club Meets At Ashland Home

City Had Twelve Auto Mishaps in Month of August

Only Two of These Occurred at Intersections; Two Pedestrians Struck

Street intersections in Jacksonville during August were safety zones compared to the straight-aways, according to figures on traffic accidents for the month. Of the twelve reportable accidents, only two occurred at corners.

The report has just been prepared by the police department for submission to the National Safety Council, of which Jacksonville is a member. Careful records are kept of every accident, and at the close of the month these are summarized for the permanent records.

Four persons were injured in traffic mishaps during the month, none fatally, with property damage resulting in eight of the wrecks. Two of the injured were classed as pedestrians, both having been children at play in the streets when struck by cars.

Twenty-six motor vehicles figured in the twelve collisions. The time element does not enter heavily into the cause of the accidents, as morning, afternoon and night all brought their lot of accidents.

Three drivers figuring in the accidents were under 20 years old; twelve were from 20 to 40, and seven were between 50 and 64.

Two drivers were making right turns, two were negotiating left turns, and seventeen were going straight at the time of the mishaps. Three cars were parked when struck by other machines.

Expect Enrollment At Junior High to Be Most in History

Principal Burbridge Back from Summer Spent in Study at U. of I.

Miss Hester Burbridge, principal of the David Prince Junior High school, has returned from her summer vacation, having spent part of the time in study at the University of Illinois.

She announced that on Monday morning there will be registration of all students who have attended the Jacksonville schools.

Enrollment promises to be the largest that the school has ever had. This week the registration of pupils from out of town has taken place. The school is beginning to be a busy place again after the summer months, when re-organizing of the building was done and a general program renovation was carried out, putting every part of the building in fine condition.

Miss Burbridge also announces that Lee Freeman will have charge of the boys general shop classes and will sponsor the orchestra. Mrs. Glenn Meyers, an additional teacher, will teach classes in science and mathematics.

On Saturday, September 7, Miss Burbridge will have a meeting of all the Junior High school teachers to discuss plans for the coming year. The meeting will be held at 1:15, in Room 205.

JOY PRAIRIE COTERIE HOLDS MEETING AT NIENHUESER HOME

Chapin—The Joy Prairie Coterie held their first meeting of the club year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. H. Nienhueser.

The afternoon program was in charge of the hostess who briefly described a dinner at the Country club and a visit to the Journal-Courier office and plant.

Of especial interest to the club was the story of the Chapin items in the morning paper she had prepared for them.

Mrs. Harry Oaken read an article, selected by the hostess, "Our Daily Dollars," by John T. Flynn, also a speech by Senator Carter Glass, defending his position on the banking bill. During the social hour dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. E. F. Joy will be hostess September 18th.

The bride is the daughter of the late Judge and Mrs. M. T. Layman of this city and formerly made Jacksonville her home. She and her family have many friends who will be interested in the wedding news.

Hospital Gardens Lead All in State

Local Institution Garden Produces 113,000 Pounds of Truck in Month

Jacksonville State hospital led all other institutions of the state in production of garden foods in June, according to figures announced by the Welfare Department. The gardens of the local institution yielded 113,690 pounds of vegetables during the month.

Arthur Layton is head farmer at the hospital, in charge of the extensive operations, with Charles Ornelas as head gardener.

The State Welfare Department reports that bumper crops in the gardens of the state institutions show, for the first six months of 1935, a 50 percent increase, in dollars and cents value, over the yield during the same period in 1934. It is believed that a comparison of the number of pounds of produce would show an even larger increase for 1935.

The more favorable growing condition of the present year, as compared with the drought conditions of last year, have naturally been an important factor in producing more flourishing gardens. Another factor which has been instrumental in bringing this large production about is the increased efficiency of the gardeners. Much credit is due to the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture, which acts in a consulting and supervising capacity to the state farms and gardens. The short courses which have been conducted for farmers and gardeners at the U. of I. College of Agriculture, Urbana, have provided valuable instruction.

For the months of June the amount of garden produce raised by the different gardens totaled 893,998 pounds. Those institutions heading the list for June with the number of pounds produced, are:

Jacksonville State Hospital . . . 113,690
Lincoln State Hospital . . . 111,000
Joliet Prison . . . 81,000
Chicago State Hospital . . . 69,000
Menard Prison . . . 57,000
East Moline State Hospital . . . 56,000
Dixon State Hospital . . . 51,000
Surplus quantities are being transferred to other institutions or are being canned for winter use. Some vegetables are also being stored in root cellars for the winter.

Indians Divide With Red Sox

Boston, Sept. 5.—(P)—The Red Sox couldn't score enough runs to win for Lefty Grove today, but they could and did for Wes Ferrell and as a result they split a doubleheader with the third-place Cleveland Indians. Cleveland won the opener 5 to 1 while the Sox and Ferrell took the afterpiece 6 to 1.

Hudlin hurled six-hit ball in the first clash and virtually clinched the game when he smacked a home run with one on base in the second inning. The Sox made it close until the ninth, when five hits produced four more Indian tallies.

Morgan County Crop

Peat Invades Illinois and Feeds on Plant Roots, Causing Much Loss

The corn crop in Morgan county had been considerably damaged by ravages of the southern corn rootworm, a pest of the southern corn belt, according to reports from physicians here.

The present rain, however, has forced the peat down the roots of the corn and allowed it to come forth the worms, which had eaten at the roots to fall over. J. H. Bieger of this city, assistant state entomologist, says the work has been prevented this year throughout central Illinois.

The damage the worm does to corn plants is not apparent while it is in progress, which gives the farmer no chance to enforce a remedy. The

The ravages of the pest are reported from all parts of the country. It is a white maggot-like worm one-half to five-eighths of an inch long having a brown head. Mr. Burger reports that there is nothing that can be done now, as the damage to the crop has been so extensive. However, the state entomologists have at some time that the pest was preying on the crop in Illinois, but could not exterminate it.

That the utility certificates issued to cover the loan of $291,000 could never become a general obligation of the city, as assured by Amos Watts, of Chicago, and by Clayton Barber, both of whom are well informed upon municipal law in this state, Foreman declared. In the application for the plant, as it was filed in 1933, the financial statement set out that if the city was able to obtain 50 per cent of the business in the city, it would be able to amortize the debt completely in three years, and at the same time set up a deduction fund, and show a surplus in the municipal plant fund that could go toward the reduction of water rates, lower taxes, or any other purpose to which the council wished to put the funds, with a top rate of five cents for a kilowatt hour, comparable to the seven cent top rate now being charged. The old figures, he continued, were set up to amortize a loan of $370,000, and not the $291,000 offered in the application.

Answers Questions

The former city attorney answered questions asked by a few members of the city council, starting in answer to one of them that there is already on file in Washington an objection to the project, filed by a power company, in which it is alleged that the city will be unable to get 50 per cent of the business in the length of time set forth. In answer, Foreman stated that in Springfield 85 per cent of the residential business is held by the Springfield municipal plant, concluded that that business is the cream, because of the higher rate charged.

Questioned about the steps that could be taken to keep the electric light plant out of politics, the former city attorney said that the citizens or the council itself could take these steps. He pointed out, however, that the council was not deciding on that issue at this time, but that it was deciding whether to accept the project offered by the government.

J. W. Merrigan, who followed the former city attorney, declared that he felt the allocation was one of the biggest things that had happened during his lifetime. He said the city was past the experimental stage in the management of its water works, and that the same would be true of its conduct of the municipal light plant. He recalled that Senator Lewis, whose telegram brought the first news of the allocation to the city, began his campaign for a seat in the United States senate at the Morgan county fair several years ago, and intimated that Lewis may have been a big help in driving the project through. He told the council that the citizens of Jacksonville were watching the council and that they wanted action and advised the aldermen to "grab the opportunity, and grab it quick."

Jake Claus also advised the council to "take the offer" quick. He declared "we want a new Jacksonville and the opportunity is at hand."

Harlan Williamson, who was chairman of the finance committee when the 1933 council submitted the application, declared he was almost sick when he learned that the application had been granted. In view of the action on July 1, and as soon as he found it was not too late to do something about it, said he immediately got busy. He urged the council to take immediate action, and to notify the PWA heads by night letter of any action taken.

Declaring that the water rates and electric light rates here were too high, Attorney Robert E. Harmon told the council that he opposed the bond issue of $150,000 for the purpose of rehabilitating the water works at a recent special election, on the grounds that the bond issue would bring about higher water rates. Concluding his talk, the attorney said "if this is our opportunity, let's grab it" and finished with the statement that he would like to see the council rescind its former action.

Jake Claus said he merely attended the council session to listen in, but was impressed by what the speaker had said, and concluded by saying that he believed the council should open the door to the golden opportunity. Tom Buckthorpe, the final speaker, said his only advice would be for the members of the council to get out of town if they failed to rescind the July 1 resolution.

It was then that Alderman George Brown presented the prepared resolution asking the council to rescind the resolution, and to renew its application for a municipal light and power plant.

No Conflict

Discussing the possibility of an overlapping of the municipal power plant and water works extension projects, the former city attorney said that the water-works extension project could be pared in view of the fact that the equipment for providing power to operate the pumps would be taken care of in the municipal light plant. The two projects will not conflict in any other way, because both are concerned with different funds and in no way overlap.

Turning to other business, the council quickly approved for application the gravelling and filling of about five miles of dirt streets to be requested of the Works Progress Administration. The projects, outlined by Alderman W. H. Cocking, call for an expenditure by the city of approximately $4000 for gravel, with the WPA furnishing labor to the amount of $42,267. It was estimated that some of the funds to pay for the oil could be obtained from the Motor Fuel Tax fund, and that there would be an item of about $1600 for the rental of a tractor, and another item of $3,584 for the use of dump trucks, some of which would be refunded to the city.

Streets in all four wards would be modernized under the proposal, to be submitted before Saturday to the WPA board in Peoria. The streets listed in the first ward were East Lafayette from Brown to Howe, Independence from Clay to Myrtle, Doolin avenue from Independence to Oak, and Howe street to the Webster railroad, thence to Independence, and then to the East cemetery and C. and A. tracks.

Streets in the second ward were listed as Church street from Independence to Route 104, Prairie and Webster, also from Independence to Route 104. In the third ward, Chambers from South Main to Brooklyn, and Chambers to Route 36, and E. Superior from South Main to Harding, and Michigan from South Main to Harding, also would be improved. Two streets, Chambers from Church to Gladstone and Gladstone from Chambers to Grove, would be included in the work.

Included in the same project is a plan for removing from the streets the disused street car tracks, and proposals to construct sewers on Johnson and Goltz.

Highways Approved

The council was advised by the state department of highways that several arterial highways had been approved and that other projects, to be paid out of the Motor Fuel Tax fund had been approved for Sections 4-CS and 5-CS, at an estimated total cost of $3,500. The section 4-CS is on Hardin avenue from Morton to Michigan, and the section 5-CS is on Chambers street from South Clay to Brooklyn, a project which will not be undertaken this year, and on Brooklyn avenue from Chambers to State street. All of these streets were approved as arterial highways, following their designation by the council and approval by the state highway department.

One arterial highway, Doolin avenue, was withheld from this classification because the state department felt that Route 78, only one block away, was able to take care of the traffic in that part of the city. Arterial Highway Number 22, Independence avenue from Clay to Myrtle, also was approved.

The department of public health notified the council that it had inspected and approved the preliminary draft of the plan of the city to increase its water system and rehabilitation of its water-works, pending full plans. The project has been submitted to the PWA.

City Clerk John R. Phillips submitted his report for the month of August, showing collections of $1,699.67, most of it consisting of tax paid to the city by fire insurance companies. C. J. Wright reported collections of $8,063.73 for August, and the sale of water amounting to $5,688.83 for the same period.

Getting into his first batch of the evening, Alderman Brown successfully brought an amendment to the claims against the city when he pointed out that gasoline for the mayor's automobile was being charged against the garage fund, instead of the mayor's office or the contingent fund. His demand that the bill be charged against the mayor's office and paid out of contingent fund was supported by Alderman F. Mathews, and the council voted the amendment to the motion that all properly approved bills be paid.

Launching another attack, Alderman Brown demanded that bills for salaries, charged against the contingent fund, be held up pending a ruling on the legality of the payment. City Attorney C. R. Gray said it was judgment that while there was nothing criminal in the procedure, that it was irregular and could be stopped by court action. The demand was lost for the want of a second.

Continuing his protests, the Fourth ward alderman demanded that meter readings be placed on bills rendered for water purchased. C. J. Wright, superintendent of the collection division, said he would be glad to put the readings on bills when requested to do so by water users, but that the practice had been discontinued for the sake of economy. Alderman Brown was advised to tell persons who complain to him about the failure to include these figures, to lodge their complaints with the collection department.

Alderman Mathews agreed to take up with the street sweeper a plea from a criminal in the procedure, that East Court street on the east side of Clay avenue be swept more than once a week.

Pass Resolution

Under the public improvement heading, the city passed a resolution authorizing the mayor and city clerk to sign a lease with the Morgan Dairy Ice Cream company for the property along the Brook, to be used as a lunch room and ice cream sales room. The lease calls for rental of $12.50 monthly.

The council also voted to recommend to the board of plumbing examiners that a license be granted to Pat Sheehan. Sheehan appeared before the council with his attorney, Robert E. Harmon.

Police were given charge of a dispute over the use of a marked bus stop at the southern entrance to the square, and were instructed to keep the place open for the use of taxicabs and jitneys. The head of the Reddy Cab company reported that he had experienced some difficulty in using the place because of the activities of another taxi driver who had been using the corner as a stand.

City Had Twelve Auto Mishaps in Month of August

Only Two of These Occurred at Intersections; Two Pedestrians Struck

Street intersections in Jacksonville during August were safety zones compared to the straight-aways, according to figures on traffic accidents for the month. Of the twelve reportable accidents, only two occurred at corners.

The report has just been prepared by the police department for submission to the National Safety Council, of which Jacksonville is a member. Careful records are kept of every accident, and at the close of the month these are summarized for the permanent records.

Four persons were injured in traffic mishaps during the month, none fatally, with property damage resulting in eight of the wrecks. Two of the four injured were classed as pedestrians, both having been children at play in the streets when struck by cars.

Twenty-six motor vehicles figured in the twelve collisions. The time element does not enter heavily into the cause of the accidents, as morning, afternoon and night all brought their toll of accidents.

Three drivers figuring in the accidents were under 20 years old; twelve were from 20 to 40, and seven were between 40 and 64.

Two drivers were making right turns, two were negotiating left turns, and seventeen were going straight at the time of the mishaps. Three cars were parked when struck by other machines.

Expect Enrollment At Junior High to Be Most in History

Principal Burbridge Back from Summer Spent in Study at U. of I.

Miss Hester Burbridge, principal of the David Prince Junior High school, has returned from her summer vacation, having spent part of the time in study at the University of Illinois. She announced that on Monday morning there will be registration of all students who have attended the Jacksonville schools.

Enrollment promises to be the largest that the school has ever had. This week the registration of pupils from out of town has taken place. The school is beginning to be a busy place again after the summer months, when redecorating of the building was done and a general program renovation was carried out, putting every part of the building in fine condition.

Miss Burbridge also announces that Lee Freeman will have charge of the boys general shop classes and will sponsor the orchestra. Mrs. Glenn Meyers, an additional teacher, will teach classes in science and mathematics.

On Saturday, September 7, Miss Burbridge will have a meeting of all the Junior High school teachers to discuss plans for the coming years. The meeting will be held at 1:15, in Room 205.

Hospital Gardens Lead All in State

Local Institution Garden Produces 113,000 Pounds of Truck in Month

Jacksonville State hospital led all other institutions of the state in production of garden foods in June, according to figures announced by the Welfare Department. The gardens of the local institution yielded 113,000 pounds of vegetables during the month.

Arthur Layton is head farmer at the hospital, in charge of the extensive operations, with Charles Ornellas as head gardener.

The State Welfare Department reports that bumper crops in the gardens of the state institutions show for the first six months of 1935, a 50 per cent increase, in dollars and cents value, over the yield during the same period in 1934. It is believed that a comparison of the number of pounds of produce would show an even larger increase for 1935.

The more favorable growing condition of the present year, as compared with the drought conditions of last year, have naturally been an important factor in producing more flourishing gardens. Another factor which has been instrumental in bringing this large production about is the increased efficiency of the gardeners. Much credit is due to the supervision of the State Department of Agriculture, which acts in a consulting and supervising capacity to the state farms and gardens. The short courses which have been conducted for farmers and gardeners at the U. of I. College of Agriculture, Urbana, have provided valuable instruction.

For the months of June the amount of garden produce raised by the different gardens totaled 328,906 pounds. These institutions leading the list for June, with the number of pounds produced, are:

Jacksonville State Hospital	113,000
Chicago State School, Colony	111,000
Joliet Prison	81,000
Chicago State Hospital	63,000
Menard Prison	47,000
East Moline State Hospital	58,000
Dixon State Hospital	51,000

Surplus quantities are being transferred to other institutions or are being canned for winter use. Some vegetables are also being stored in root cellars for the winter.

CITY COUNCIL VOTES TO ACCEPT FEDERAL GRANT, LOAN

Ask Federal Grant For Projects At Three Institutions

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 5. —(AP)— Illinois, planning a $15,000,000 construction program at state institutions, today asked the public works administration for a grant of $6,958,085.90.

If the PWA agrees to furnish the $6,958,085.90 the remainder of the $15,000,000 will be provided from state funds—the legislature at its last regular session having made appropriations for that purpose.

The construction program, as submitted to the PWA, would, state officials said, furnish work for 5,741 men for a 12 to 18 months period.

PLAN MEETING OF MUNICIPAL LEAGUE SOON

Annual Convention To Be Held In Quincy; Local Officers To Attend

The 22nd annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League will be held at Quincy, September 19th, 20th and 21st. Mayor F. J. Blackburn, City Clerk John R. Phillips and members of the local city council will represent Jacksonville.

The purpose of the annual convention of the Illinois Municipal League is to exchange ideas, information and experience on municipal problems. Sectional meetings are held for Mayors and Village Presidents, Aldermen and Trustees, Municipal Clerks and Finance Officers, Attorneys and Corporation Counsel, Municipal Water and Light Plant Officials, Public Works and Engineering Officials, City Planning and Zoning Officials and Police Executives.

Authorities and experts in their various lines will present papers and addresses concerning a myriad of municipal problems. As a result, the three day conference of municipal officials takes on the character of a short course for advanced students in municipal administration. Municipal officials go to the convention with a few ideas and return to their homes with hundreds of ideas, tending towards providing an improved quality of municipal service at reduced per unit costs.

One of the features of the convention will be a Question-Box on municipal affairs. Each delegate will be asked to ask one or more questions and it is anticipated that a lively interest will be shown in the asking and answering of these questions.

Throughout the convention the air will be electrified with ideas for the improvement of municipal government particularly along general administrative lines, including: finance, legal, engineering, budgets, accounting procedure, purchasing and planning.

The annual convention of the league is coming to be more and more a parliament of cities and villages pointing the way for a readjustment of our laws to meet present-day urban conditions, officials say. Sixty years ago when the present Illinois Constitution was adopted, 80 per cent of the people of Illinois lived in rural or unincorporated territory and only 20 per cent in cities and villages. Today the situation is just reversed, with 80 per cent living within cities and villages and only 20 per cent living in unincorporated territory. This development, of cities and villages constitutes a major change in the needs of the people of the State. The municipal officials who met at Quincy will be representing municipalities who render highly necessary and valuable municipal services for the protection and welfare of the 80 per cent of the people of Illinois who live within municipalities. From the standpoint of the general welfare of the State, therefore, the municipal conference at Quincy, beginning on September 19th, will be one of the most important conventions held this year.

The league is the outstanding organization in the State fighting for the preservation of local liberty. For this reason the league has long been regarded as the foundation of freedom wherever questions of governmental policy are considered. In the words of Mayor John W. Kapp, Jr., of Springfield, president of the league, "Since municipal government is that government closest to the individual citizen, one of the greatest tragedies that can occur to him is to have the powers of municipal government transferred from his local government to remote and irresponsible governments, who are irresponsible and irresponsible to the individual citizen, in proportion to the degree of remoteness. One of the major features of the program for the restoration of individual liberty is the movement for the restoration of municipal liberty."

The convention will be devoted exclusively to the discussion of public problems.

JIMMY DAVISON ENTERTAINS CLUB

Jimmy Davison, of this city, entertained the members of the American Business Club at their regular meeting Thursday night at the Peacock Inn with humorous stories and imitations.

George Wilson, chairman of the bowling committee of the club, announced that try-outs for the club team would be held Monday night at the Auto Inn.

Included in the projects are new buildings for all State hospitals, two of the five Normal schools, Charleston and Macomb, the University of Illinois, and the State Schools for the Deaf and the Blind at Jacksonville. Also requested were funds for the construction of a new state arsenal and an archives at Springfield.

Some of the projects, listing first the amount sought as a PWA grant and the second amount the state will furnish, follow:

Alton State Hospital: Diagnostic building, $112,500 and $137,500; four ward buildings, $180,000 and $220,000.

Anna State Hospital: Assembly hall, $50,646 and $62,500; four ward buildings, $180,000 and $220,000; diagnostic buildings, $112,500 and $137,000.

Chicago State Hospital: Administration building, $226,344 and $276,800.

Dixon State Hospital: Ten ward building, $450,000 and $550,000; administration building, $45,000 and $55,000; employees building, $56,250 and $68,750.

Dwight Reformatory for Women: Assembly hall, $51,900 and $64,300.

East Moline State Hospital: Two ward buildings, $91,344 and $111,800.

Elgin State Hospital: Six ward buildings, $270,000 and $330,000; diagnostic buildings, $157,500 and $192,500; employees' building, $56,600 and $69,000.

Jacksonville School for the Deaf: Six cottages for boys, $136,244 and $166,800.

Jacksonville State Hospital: Diagnostic building, $112,500 and $137,500; one ward building, $45,000 and $55,000.

Kankakee State Hospital: Diagnostic building, $157,500 and $192,500; two ward buildings, $90,000 and $110,000.

Lincoln State School and Colony: Six ward buildings, $270,000 and $330,000.

Peoria State Hospital: Diagnostic building, $112,500 and $137,500; two ward buildings, $90,000 and $110,000.

Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Quincy: Two cottages, $46,344 and $56,800.

State Arsenal at Springfield: $452,000 and $553,468; state archives buildings, at Springfield, $225,000 and $275,000.

Western Illinois State Teachers College at Macomb: Training school building, $325,000 and $400,000.

Southern Normal at Carbondale: Remodeling science and library buildings and incidental work, $15,136 and $18,500.

University of Illinois: Natural resources building, $675,000 and $825,000.

State Fair Grounds at Springfield: Junior department hog barn and egg laying contest building, $16,650 and $20,350.

Jacksonville School for the Blind: Two cottages, $46,344 and $56,800.

Illinois Soldiers and Sailors Children's Home at Normal: General building, $25,000 and $28,572.

Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville: Two cottages, $46,344 and $56,800.

Eastern Illinois Normal at Charleston: Science and education building, $285,750 and $349,250.

Approval of the applications made for funds for improvements at state institutions in Jacksonville would mean a $853,432 building program.

These projects together with the already announced plans for improvement at the soldiers' unit at the Jacksonville State hospital would bring the total amount to be extended for building purposes more than a million dollars. It is estimated that the soldiers' unit program will cost at least $400,000, and the other proposed expenditures would mean that $1,259,432 would be spent on state buildings.

HEAR REPORT OF CONVENTION AT B. P. W. C. MEET

Club Opens Fall Season With Meeting Here Last Night

The Business and Professional Woman's club opened its fall season at the Peacock Inn Thursday evening with a large attendance of members.

Mrs. O. M. Olsen spoke to the society of the biennial convention held in Seattle, Washington, which she attended as a representative of the organization.

Mrs. Olsen was impressed with the magnitude of the convention plans, which exceeded all others that she had attended. Numerous festivities were arranged enroute by the clubs in the hostess states.

The speaker stated that the clarion call of the conference was to establish women's responsibility in the struggle for security. The former national president, Mrs. Geline M. Bowman, stressed the point that women must unite for effective democracy.

It was brought out in the addresses of the national officers that co-operation in all clubs was necessary, since new vistas to women have been created and positions of authority should be taken by women as well as men.

Discrimination was scored and unemployment insurance favored by the leaders. She asked that legislation be studied during the coming year.

On the social side, the convention was outstanding, cleverly arranged by the five hostess states, Washington, Oregon, Montana, Idaho Wyoming, assisted by Hawaii and Alaska.

Following the registration, the formal "Rose Reception," sponsored by the state of Oregon Federation, was one of the most charming events, with the decorations displaying roses of unusual beauty and quantity, with fresh arrangements every day. Unique among Washington's plans was the "Forest Luncheon" with beautiful souvenirs of wood in many designs.

Similarly in the traditional spirit of the West was the "Dude Ranch" luncheon, sponsored by the Wyoming State Federation. The Women's Aeronautic Association stressed aviation, having several speakers of note in the field.

The Idaho Products dinner and the Illinois luncheon were also greatly enjoyed by the delegates.

The banquet, at which Secretary Wallace was the speaker, was attended by 7,000 people and was perhaps one of the most significant occasions, and possibly second to this was the trip to Victoria, when 800 enjoyed the trip on the palatial Canadian Pacific steamer.

The speaker closed her very interesting remarks by showing a number of official souvenirs, which included "A Dude Hat" from Wyoming; place cards of wood from the forests of Washington; samples of ore from Alaska and a scrap-book containing a complete record of the conference.

Following the supper and preceding the convention report group singing was enjoyed, led by Miss Lorene Dewese. The president, Miss Hester Burbridge, presided and called upon several members to speak of their vacation trips, including Miss Agnes Faxton, Miss Marie Finney, Miss Rose Ransom, Mrs. G. S. Rogerson and Miss Mary Postelwitz.

The program was in charge of the program committee and several numbers were features of the entertainment. Vocal solos were given by Miss Colleen McKavitt, "In the Luxembourg Gardens," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "The Touch of Your Hands," Roberta, Miss Camm, of Franklin, gave two readings, which were also outstanding selections.

Miss Burbridge announced during the business session that the next meeting would be September 19. The supper committee will include: Miss Olive Venters, Miss Opal Tillman, Miss Esther Sallee.

The September board meeting will be held at the Applebee farm, with Mrs. Alice Applebee as hostess, on Wednesday, Sept. 11. The committee on arrangements for the pot-luck supper consists of Mrs. Alice Applebee, Mrs. Lillian Danskin and Miss Irma Brown.

Guests included Mrs. Shack and Miss Gertrude Wetzel, of New York.

Mrs. Harry Stringer of Murrayville spent Thursday shopping in local stores.
